

Please take a few minutes and answer the following questions at the conclusion of your hosting of the exhibition. SITES and state humanities councils use this information to analyze the impact of the Smithsonian traveling exhibition and related humanities programs and build financial support.

The long-term success of this project is dependent on you to provide examples of the vast array of programs, locally produced exhibitions, and other activities that happen in each of the host communities. Please email newspaper clippings, photographs of memorable moments and other printed material that are associated with your organization's hosting of this exhibition. We especially seek examples (photos especially) of visitors active in humanities programs and viewing the exhibition or your own locally produced exhibition.

Please return the completed form and the enclosures per email or postal mail to Terri Cobb within three weeks of the exhibition's closing (addresses listed on the end).

OPTIONAL ANECDOTES

We truly value your input and want to take your feedback into account when planning for our next exhibit! Please use these “sentence-starters” to inspire your own response. We just love details and stories. Feel free to add more pages as needed.

“The exhibition gave us insight into American history and culture . . .”

“The MoMS exhibition spurred conversations between people of different ages, generations, and/or backgrounds, especially in the section that talks about . . .”

“This aspect of the experience was the most fun/rewarding for the community . . .”

OPTIONAL ANECDOTES

On the next page, please share an anecdote about your community’s experience with the exhibition. We may use your human-interest story in a future issue of SITES’ newsletter, Siteline, the exhibition catalog, Update or on the Museum on Main Street website.
